EXPERIENCE COMES HIGH,

so it is cheaper to use that of others than to experiment yourself. Our customers say our bread is the best in town; that they could not ask for any better. This, of course, is very gratifying to us, but it will be more so to you when you get to know how good our bread really is, how healthful and how nutritious, with that delightful flavor which only the very best of flour and skillful baking can give.

VALENCIA COUNTY PRIMARIES SET

They Will Be Held on September 23 and the County Convention on September 25 at County Seat.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald)

Belen, N. M., Sept. 18.—Another later than in my other counties, the primary for the county commissioners for this year Saturday evening. At 8 P. M. R. McGill of Valencia, aspirant for the Democratic nomination for congressman, presented his claims to the voters in a speech of about an hour. He was introduced by the chairman of the meeting as our next congressman. His speech was along general Democratic lines, and upheld the Jeffersonian against the Hamiltonian theory of government. He attacked the action of President Taft in vetoing the farmers' free list bill, and the Flood resolution, citing it as an illustration of "one man power."

The speaker also explained in detail what had been accomplished in Washington in behalf of statehood by himself, together with Messrs. Ferguson, Jones and Hand, but was discreetly silent on the subject of who sent the party to Washington. He was also strong in his praise of senator Owen of Oklahoma, who he declared was a friend of the people of New Mexico, and urged his hearers to vote the "little blue ballot" and support the amendment to make the New Mexico constitution more easily amendable.

The primaries for the election of these delegates are authorized to be held in each of the precincts on or before Saturday, September 23d, and the calls for the conventions are signed by Antonia Lomas, chairman of the county central committee.

Arrangements have also been made for the election boards in each of the precincts, they being as follows:

On Sunday Dr. Bright, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church for this district, occupied the pulpit of the Helen Methodist church, preaching both morning and evening. In the afternoon the fourth quarterly conference of the local church was held, at which time the reports for the year were read and approved by the membership. The meeting showed that the year now closing has been a successful one, and there are still better prospects for the year which commences after conference, which will be held in Albuquerque the last week in September.

Saturnino Basa returned early Sunday morning from Albuquerque, where he spent Saturday in attendance upon the meeting of the Spanish-American editors of the territory, of which association he is secretary.
